Dear Mr [REDACTED]

We write in response to your contact with us regarding Fine 3254052944 for 'Stop in loading zone' on 15 November 2023.

Outcome of our review:

We considered the circumstances you presented. We also consulted the Caution/Review Guidelines, legislation and information provided by the issuing authority. Our investigations conclude the fine still applies.

Fines are not an offer or a contract, they are a penalty imposed for a specific offence. The options available are clearly shown on your fine and fine reminder.

We are satisfied the fine was issued correctly. If you wish to dispute the matter further you may choose to have the fine decided in court, where you can present the legal issues you wish to raise to a magistrate.

What you need to do now:

Please pay $215.00 at www.revenue.nsw.gov.au pay or by phone on 1300 130 112.

We will send you a fine reminder showing other ways to pay. You should act by the due date on the reminder to avoid a $65.00 fee being added to the money you already owe. If it remains unpaid further fees will be added and we will commence debt recovery action.

If you wish to dispute the fine further you would need to request for it to be decided in court via 'myPenalty' at www.revenue.nsw.gov.au.

For more information you can visit our website or call us on the number below between 7:00 am and 7:00 pm, Monday to Friday (excluding NSW public holidays).

You can manage your fine/s online by adding Fines to your MyServiceNSW Account at service.nsw.gov.au.

Yours sincerely,

Commissioner of Fines Administration
